THE NATIONAL CONVENTION

June 10, 1888.

To the REPUBLICAN ELECTORS OF THE UNITED STATES: In accordance with the instructions of the national republican convention of 1884, a national convention of delegates representing the republican party will be held at the city of Chicago, Ill., on Tuesday, the 10th day of June, 1888, at 10 o'clock, noon, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for President and Vice President to be supported at the next national election, and for the transaction of such other business as may be there presented.

Republican electors in the several states, and votes without regard to past political affiliation, difference of opinion or belief in the American principle of a protective tariff for the defense and development of home industries and the elevation of home labor; who would reduce the national taxes and prevent the accumulation of the surplus in the treasury in harmony with this principle; who are opposed to the attempt now more openly avowed than ever before to establish a policy which would strike down American labor to the level of the under-paid and oppressed workers of foreign lands; who favor a system of naval and coast defense which will enable the United States to conduct its international negotiations with self-respect; who gratefully cherish the defense of the country; who condemn and resent the continued and unjust exclusion of rapidly growing territories, which have an indisputable title to admission into the sphere of states; who are in favor of free schools and popular education, a free and honest ballot and a fair count, the protection of every citizen of the United States in his legal rights at home and abroad, a foreign policy that shall extend our trade and commerce to every land and ocean, and shall properly support the dignity of the nation and the promotion of friendly and harmonious relations and intercourse between all the states, are cordially invited to unite under this call in the formation of a national ticket.

Each state will be entitled to four delegates at large, and for each representative at large two delegates, and each congressional district one delegate, and the District of Columbia two delegates.

The delegates-at-large shall be chosen by popular state conventions, called in not less than twenty days before the meeting of the national convention, and the delegates from the congressional districts shall be chosen in the same manner as in made in said districts. The territorial delegates shall be chosen in the same manner as in made in said districts.

The delegates from the District of Columbia shall be chosen at a convention constituted of members elected in the primary district assemblies held under the call and direction of the republican central committee of said district.

An alternate delegate for each district in the national convention to act in the absence of the delegate, shall be elected in the same manner and at the same time as the delegate is elected.

All notices of contests must be filed with the national committee in writing, accompanied by printed statements of the grounds of contest which shall be made public. Preference in the order of hearing and determining contests will be given by the convention in accordance with the dates of filing of such notices and statements with the national committee.

B. F. Jones, Chairman, National Committee, Washington, D.C., 1887.

Please write down for 1888 the date of the democratic party.

The loss of life by railroads in the United States has been much larger than at any time since 1880. The total number of killed as reported by telegraph is 1,822, as compared with 855 in 1887, 947 in 1886, 621 in 1885, 755 in 1884, 820 in 1883, and 1,040 in 1882. The total number of those seriously injured, shows a proportionate increase, and footed up 19,999, as compared with 890 in 1886, 698 in 1885, 1,050 in 1884, 1,110 in 1883, 1,115 in 1882, and 627 in 1881.

A point against the administration which is too true: "Mr. Cleveland fills the Englishman's idea of the full stature of American statesmanship; and why? Because he takes sides with the English manufacturing class against American competitors. An American statesman from the English point of view is one who looks out for British interests and leaves American interests to shift for themselves. Benedict Arnold a hundred years ago was the English officer's best ideal of an American soldier."

There are no thieves so great and daring as the big ones, and there are no thieves who steal with so much impunity as those who are classed as millionaires. The frauds connected with the Pacific railway are cold-blooded and startling. It is a fact, that taking all six Pacific roads and counting bonds, land, grants, and the government's annual advances with interest and it appears that an amounting to over 447 millions has been expended for lines that cost only 95 millions. The colossal swindle perpetrated upon the government amounts to 332 millions. For a man—Stanford, Huntington, Hopkins, and Crocker—improperly diverted the funds of the Central Pacific and divided among themselves 142 millions in cash and securities. One of the commissioners selected to investigate the operations of the Pacific roads, says the management has been a national disgrace. Well, what is congress going to do about it?

Senator Plumb, of Kansas, makes a strong point against the democrats in congress by telling of the inconsistency of the democratic leaders on the tariff question. Senator McPherson, of New Jersey, is a stickler for high tariff on porcelain and pottery ware. Mr. Bayard once fought to retain the tax on matches to favor a monopoly whose headquarters are in Wilmington; Senator Vest voted to raise the tariff on zinc; Senator Fugh is in favor of the duty on iron and lumber; Senator Voorhees has some pet article protected in Indiana on which he insists the tariff shall be kept up. These are all free traders in theory, but unwilling to reduce their theory to practice when it hits their home product. "I once completely upset the senator from New Jersey," read Senator Plumb, "while he was fighting against the reduction of the tax on zinc New Jersey product, by asking him if there was any article manufactured in the state from which he would wish to have the tariff removed. He laughed and said: 'No.'"

The year 1887 has been a marvelous

THE POPE HONORED.

Celebration of His Golden Jubilee at Rome.

A SCENE OF GREAT MAGNIFICENCE.

The Holy Father Celebrates Pontifical Mass Before 30,000 People—His Faiths Twice—The Event Observed in Europe and America.

THE JUBILEE.

Rome, Jan. 1.—The pontifical mass yesterday was a great success. Thousands of people thronged St. Peter's square early in the morning, awaiting the opening of the jubilee. Sixty thousand admission tickets had been issued and the cathedral was packed.

The Pope entered at 8:30, followed by the cardinals in procession. His Holiness was received with loud and long continued shouts of "Long live the Pope." The Pope's mass was deeply impressive and many persons in the audience were affected. The Pope blessed all present and the cathedral at 11 o'clock, the whole audience joining in singing hymns, waving their hands and on enthusiastic exclamations. Later in the day King Humbert expressed himself to a deputation from Parliament as being highly satisfied with the smoothness of the ceremony, which, he said, was the best proof of the Pope's liberty in Rome.

Forty-eight cardinals and 238 archbishops and bishops were present at the mass, and it is estimated that there were 30,000 persons in the audience. The Pope prayed for a long time in his private chapel, and then received the homage of the court cardinals in the sala ducale. While assuming the sacerdotal vestments, the Pope was overcome with emotion and fainted. Strong salts were administered and he soon returned to consciousness. He then ascended the gestatorial chair and was borne on the shoulders of the soldiers, attended by the eunuchs, into St. Peter's Cathedral. Just before he was fully vested for the altar he again fainted, remaining unconscious a few minutes. The mass occupied twenty-eight minutes. After pronouncing the benediction the Pope again seated himself in the gestatorial chair and was borne completely around the altar to the capella del sacramento, where he offered up a prayer of thanksgiving. During the ceremony the Pope wore the triple crown presented by Emperor William.

In the chapel the columns and pilasters were hung with red drapery. The statue of St. Peter was clothed in gold and silver, with a tiara on the head. The throne, which included the famous ancient silver trumpets. Many members of the nobility were present. The Pope wore a pastoral ring and a white surplice and archbishops. His tiara was covered with 1,000 pearls. The chalice used by his Holiness was the gift of the King of Portugal and the golden plate used in the service was a present from Queen Victoria.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—Special masses in honor of the Pope's jubilee were celebrated yesterday in the cathedrals and other churches throughout Great Britain. The ceremonies were largely attended and great enthusiasm was manifested.

MADRID, Jan. 2.—The Queen Regent, accompanied by the members of her court and the cabinet ministers, attended a jubilee mass in San Telmo Cathedral yesterday. All of the Government officers were decorated, and at night were brilliantly illuminated in honor of the Pope.

IN AMERICA.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 2.—The cathedral was packed to the doors yesterday, the occasion being the celebration of the Pope's jubilee. A solemn mass with orchestral accompaniment was celebrated by the pastor, Rev. John Schmitt. The choir of 100 voices by Bishop Ireland was superb and most impressive.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 2.—The golden jubilee of Pope Leo XIII. was celebrated yesterday in the cathedral of the city. The heavy rainfall had no effect on the attendance, and when the solemn pontifical mass began the vast building was filled to the doors. Rev. Alexander A. Gallagher was celebrant of the mass. The musical portion of the services was very elaborate.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 2.—The golden jubilee of his Holiness the Pope was made the occasion of special recognition in the Roman Catholic churches of the city yesterday. Solemn high mass was attended by an immense congregation at the Cathedral of the Holy Name at 10:30 o'clock service, at which Cardinal General O'Connor was celebrant of the cathedral chapter participated. The celebrant was Rev. N. J. Mooney. Rev. Father Fitz-Simmons, the preacher of the day, delivered an appropriate address upon the life and character of the supreme pontiff.

THEIR LAST WATCH-NIGHT.

Three Persons Killed and Over Twenty Injured During a Church Service.

PONTOIAC, Mich., Jan. 2.—A terrible catastrophe occurred Saturday night in which three persons were killed outright and between twenty and thirty injured. The colored Baptists had gathered in their church to watch the old year out and the new come in as is their custom, and during the festivities so great was the crowd that the door gave way and the building collapsed. A score of terror ensued. Mary Allison and Mrs. Jones and her child were taken from the wreck dead.

Children Burned to Death.

LEWISTON, Ore., Jan. 2.—Saturday night John, aged 9, and Mabel, aged 7, the only children of John Ristison, the banker, burned to death in the bath-room at the family residence. Their mother had just taken them when the lamp exploded, filling the room with flames and fatally burning the children.

Hundreds Killed by an Explosion.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—Chinese soldiers by mail report that 40,000 kilograms of powder in a magazine at Amoy exploded November 21, doing terrible damage. A fourth of the buildings of the town were laid in ruins and other losses were sustained. Fifty soldiers were blown to atoms and several hundred inhabitants were killed.

Disastrous Burned.

PHOENIA, Ill., Jan. 2.—The lower distillery of Woolner Bros., the third largest in the United States, with a capacity of 5,000 bushels a day, was destroyed by fire Saturday night, originating, it is supposed, in the boiler. Michael Weismann, the watchman, perished in the flames. Loss, $25,000; fully covered by insurance.

An Important Venture.

BROOKLYN, Jan. 2.—A storehouse property along the Brooklyn water front amounting in value to $10,000,000 is about to be put into the control of a colossal trust. Fully one-half of the foreign commerce of the port of New York will be involved.

APPEALING FOR ASSISTANCE.

Knights of Labor Invoke the Aid of All Citizens in the Reading Difficulty—The Situation.

New York, Jan. 2.—A conference of delegates representing the different local assemblies of the Reading system met here Saturday morning and adopted an appeal to the workingmen of the country on behalf of the strikers. The appeal declares that the Reading officials manipulate the telegraph in such a way that the leaders of the strike were unable to communicate with their friends; that the officials did so communicate in name of the leaders and so created a certain amount of demoralization among the strikers, using forged dispatches in such a way that the leaders of the strike were unable to communicate with their friends; that the officials did so communicate in name of the leaders and so created a certain amount of demoralization among the strikers, using forged dispatches in such a way that the leaders of the strike were unable to communicate with their friends.

Reading, Pa., Jan. 2.—Yesterday an informal meeting of representatives of the Knights of Labor assemblies in this city, whose membership consists principally of Reading railroad employees, was held here. The situation was again briefly discussed, and it was announced that the sentiment of the employees that under no circumstances would they strike, because they considered it impolitic and on the ground that it would not help along the cause of the strikers of Labor. A number of assemblies in neighboring towns telegraphed here that they would be guided by the action of the Reading assemblies.

Pennsylvania, Pa., Jan. 2.—A meeting of District Assembly 154, comprising all the local assemblies of the Lower Schuylkill region, was held in this city Saturday evening. There was a full attendance, and it was resolved that all employees of the Reading railroad within its jurisdiction quit work on Monday.

Caught by an Old Game.

New York, Jan. 2.—The "green goods" game was played in this city Saturday on a man from Kentucky, who paid $200 for a collection of counterfeit currency of the face value of $3,000. The stuff was delivered to him in a sack, and when he opened it he found a collection of sheets of brown paper covered by a crisp new bill. One of the evildoers was arrested.

Revolutionary Widows.

Of the thirty-eight widows of revolutionary soldiers drawing pensions from the Government, two are residents of Ohio, two of Indiana, two of Illinois, two of Kentucky and two of Michigan. Tennessee claims to have more than eight, while North Carolina has five, Vermont three and Georgia three. The other old ladies are scattered about in Maine, Minnesota, Nebraska, New York, Pennsylvania, Texas and Virginia. The two oldest are ninety-five years of age and the youngest is sixty-nine, the average being eighty-five. Of course, the husbands of these women must have been middle-aged or quite old men with young wives. The youngest woman of the list is Nancy A. Green of Versailles, Ind., and the two oldest are Susan Curtis, of Topsham, Me., and Nancy Rains, of Carter's Furnace, Tenn.—Cincinnati Commercial.

—Mrs. Ann Riley died at the home of Spencer Skimmerhorn in the first ward, last evening. Funeral services will be held to-morrow morning at nine o'clock, from St. Patrick's church.

When a threatening lung disorder, such as this, is present, do not let it come to a crisis. Kill it with activity.

Many a patient, young or old, has been cured of this disease by the use of Dr. J. C. Patterson's Golden Medical Discovery.

—Married—At the residence of the officiating clergyman in Orderville, December 20, 1887, Mr. Charles F. McVane, of the town of Rock, and Miss Mary O. Egan, of Plymouth, Cook County, Wis., Rev. J. C. Gifford.

—The Tuesday evening supper of the Rectory society of Christ church will be resumed on to-morrow evening, and owing to the charity ball to be given this evening, there will be no entertainment given in connection with the supper to-morrow evening. Supper from 5 to 7 o'clock p. m. All are cordially invited.

—The annual meeting of the Traveling Men's Association was held at the Park Hotel, this city, on Saturday evening at which the following officers were elected for the ensuing year—President, C. B. Evans; vice president, J. P. Baker; secretary, E. O. Burdick. The annual banquet will be held at the Park house on Friday evening, January 6th.

—All Souls people did not come to any definite conclusion at yesterday's meeting concerning the pastorate of the church. Of course, it is the unanimous wish of the congregation and church trustees that the Rev. Mr. Waite be retained, and the pending negotiations between the church authorities will undoubtedly result in his remaining in his present charge. He will preach as usual on Sunday next, when it is hoped definite arrangements will be announced.

—Since the days when three columns of the daily papers were devoted to lists of ladies receiving New Year's calls there have been many changes. Then everybody called—now there is nobody. If any callers were out to-day they were certainly disguised. The only observance of the day except on the part of the banks and the postoffice was by the stores. Quite a number of these were closed at one o'clock, not to be re-opened until six. As a rule, however, New Year's was a holiday only in name.

—The Messrs. Brothers, West Milwaukee street, in addition to their immense stock of picture frames and fancy furniture, have recently added a first class assortment of all grades of household furniture, and devote a large share of their attention to this trade. They are one of the life, wide awake business firms of our city, and both are practical workers. When in want of picture frames or any kind of fancy or substantial household furniture call on Messrs. Brothers, West Milwaukee street.

—The funeral of Miss Carrie Roethiger was held yesterday afternoon at two o'clock from her late home on South Main street. The attendance of sympathizing friends of the bereaved family was large. The Rev. W. F. Brown, pastor of the Presbyterian church, conducted the services. He spoke words of sympathy to the bereaved family and paid a handsome tribute to the memory of the deceased. The song service was rendered by a quartet consisting of Mrs. J. W. St. John, Mrs. Charles L. Clark, Mrs. C. N. Vankirk and O. L. Clark. The remains were taken to Oak Hill cemetery for interment, the pall bearers being Messrs. Fred Groves, Will Oodry, Tom Hennessey, Will Koehn and John McVicker.

IN THE CHURCHES.

Catholics—Celebrate the Jubilee of Pope Leo XIII.

At St. Patrick's church yesterday morning special services were held in commemoration of the golden jubilee of Pope Leo XIII.

The sermon of the day was by the Rev. Father Spillard, of Notre Dame university. It dealt with the life of the pontiff in all its phases, although touching especially upon the effect of that life in restoring union and strengthening friendship among the various European powers.

Notwithstanding the cold there was a large attendance.

At the Presbyterian church last evening a goodly sized congregation gathered to listen to the story of "The True Christmas." It was a reproduction of the programme given last Tuesday. So many were kept away from the first entertainment by the storm, that it was finally decided to give it a second time. The programme was in charge of Dr. Thor Judd while the recitations, songs and responses were by the children of the Sunday school.

A BLUNDER.

By one of those inexpressible blunders which sometimes occur in a publishing office, the name of one of Janesville's most popular boot and shoe houses was omitted from our columns devoted to this interest in the Saturday's issue of this journal.

C. COGSWELL & CO., Located on West Milwaukee street in the old New York savings store are entitled to more than a passing notice. The business of this popular establishment is under the direct management of Mr. G. Cogswell, a gentleman of extended experience in the boot and shoe business. Mr. Cogswell came to Janesville from a neighboring state some two years ago and occupied for a time a store in the Watson block near the postoffice. His stock of goods was well selected and before the close of the year a good trade was established. Early last spring the stock was removed to the store now occupied by the firm and a steady increase of business has been apparent. Mr. Cogswell is a genial gentleman as well as a thorough business man, and he enjoys a large degree of public confidence. His store is one of the pleasantest in the city and his stock is complete in every department. Liberal advertising has been of service to the firm, whose announcement appears in every issue of the Gazette.

NEW YEARS IN TOWN.

How Various Janesville People Spent the Day.

Bob Campbell, wondering why Eliott didn't materialize, Sheriff Ward, opening a keg of champagne as a New Year's luxury for the troops.

Manager Moseley, feeling happy over the theatrical business at Lippins hall, B. Bennett, congratulating himself that the Christmas season had passed.

Tuesday Ross and his mother taking the last from a 3:45 trotter on Main street.

City Treasurer Murphy, seriously injuring a fifteen pound turkey, roasted to a turn and painted red with cranberry sauce.

President Bump, of the Angeworm club, inspecting Frank Sherer's barometer and making weather predictions for 1888.

Frank Webster, deciding that 1888—three of a kind and an ace—is a good year to draw to.

Several young men inspecting their Christmas bills and happy because for the next twelve months all responsibilities are on the girls.

Marshall Hogan, hoping that 1888 will bring as little trouble as 1887 did.

NOT SO GLOOMY AFTER ALL.

Merchants, on a late pronouncement 1887 a very safe bet for you.

It is the retail trade that feels this time most. Consequently the Wis. W. Co. knows everything prophesied that 1887 would leave every body very blue.

That was where the Man Who Knows Everything made his mistake. There has been depression without doubt, but when the tearing down of hopes in business circles and the failure of crops among farmers are considered the only wonder is that the depression is not much worse.

Balance sheets, as a rule this year show handsome profits. In more than one house the trade, especially since September last, has exceeded all records for five years past. Therefore we smile and wish for the new year is that our readers may smile with us.

WILL CLOSE AT SEVEN O'CLOCK.

The clothing and dry goods merchants of this city have signed an agreement to close their respective places of business at seven o'clock p. m., from January 1, 1888, to April 1, 1888, Saturday evenings excepted, as the following will show:

"We, the undersigned, agree to close our respective places of business at seven o'clock p. m., from January 1, 1888, to April 1, 1888, Saturday evenings excepted."

J. M. BOSTWICK & SONS, T. J. ZIEGLER, BROWN BROS., KNEPP, ALLEN & CO., THOMAS LEECH, BURNS & BOLAND, CHILDS & CO., HOOK MOULDERMAN, A. CORN, J. J. FORD, FERNAND QUINN, ARCHIE READ, W. C. HOLMES, FRED RUTZ, Mrs. M. WOODSTOCK, FOSTER & WILSON, E. HALL, Mrs. J. GALTBRATH, Mrs. SALTER.

THE WEATHER.

At seven o'clock yesterday morning the thermometer indicated 9 degrees above zero. Partly cloudy with south wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 18 degrees above zero. Partly cloudy with southwest wind. For the corresponding hour last year the register was 7 degrees below and at zero. At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 8 degrees below zero. Partly cloudy with west wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 13 degrees above zero. Cloudy with south wind. For the corresponding hour one year ago the register was 13 degrees below and 2 above zero.

Barometrical readings given by F. Sherer at 3 p. m. 29.50; slowly rising.

A REASONABLE TOPIC.

In our grandfather's days they marked the flight of time by the "Old Farmer's Almanac." Now, the omnipresent Old Farmer is a perpetual reminder of the fleeting seasons.

The days in a year do not outnumber the sizes, shapes and styles in which it appears; and while in the merchant's counting room or lady's boudoir it seems to have become one of the necessities of the utilitarian age in which we live.

The artist's talent, the engraver's cunning, and the printer's skill, combine in his connection to blend the ornamental with the useful; and the result is calendar of every degree of excellence, good better and best.

The introduction of the one issued by N. W. Ayer & Son, Philadelphia, will be forwarded to any address securely enclosed on receipt of 25 cents.

At Night always have a good night's sleep. It is the only safe medicine yet made that will remove all infantile disorders. It contains no Opium or Morphine, but gives the child natural ease from pain. Price 25 cents. Sold by Francis & Everson Co. P. O.
